Areas of demonstrated expertise:

I have been heavily involved with the architectural community both at multiple local, state and national levels. My experience includes working with many public/educational clients including Pomona USD, Torrance USD, Port of Long Beach. I am currently a consultant hired by the Santa Monica College Facilities Planning Department. I am highly familiar with the California Building Code and Disable access requirements. My practice (an S corporation) also do tenant improvements and residential designs and I am familiar with local zoning and planning regulations and have tremendous experience working with local jurisdictions.

I am currently part of the workgroup (Building Code Action Committee) developing the next cycle (2021-2022) International Building Code.

I am also very actively in the profession and the architect community. I was elected an At-large representative to the National American Institute of Architects Strategic Council. The AIA Strategic Council is the institute's think tank in charging of the strategic planning of the institute. I am also heavily involved with community outreach and spoke at various colleges, universities and conferences.

Goals:

Throughout my last term as a member of the Building and Life Safety Commission, I found the tasks meaningful and challenging. I would like to continue serving on the commission for at least one more term.

Vision:

Throughout my last term as a member of the Building and Life Safety Commission, I found the tasks meaningful and challenging. I would like to continue serving on the commission for at least one more term.

Personal Qualities:

I have been serving multiple leadership positions at various professional organizations including the American Institute of Architects (AIA), National Organization of Minority Architects, US Green Building Council, National Architectural Accreditation Board, National Council of Architectural Registration, etc. My contributions to the professional and local communities were recognized by the multiple awards I received, including the 2016 AIA National Young Architects Award, 2015 AIA California Young Architect Award, BD+C 40 Under 40 recipient and the Engineering News Record California 20 Under recipient. I was elevated to the AIA College of Fellows
