

SANTA MONICA FARMERS MARKETS

Alternative Options for Santa Monica Farmers Market Customers

At the Santa Monica Farmers Markets, we promote local farmers and small businesses year round, but it's in times like these when our vendors need particular support! One of the many reasons we love our vendors is because of their flexibility and creativity in bringing the community fresh produce and food in any situation. Here's a list of additional purchasing options and location so you can continue to get the products you love while supporting our vendors when they need it most:
